

Death of Domingo Amestoy.

Domingo Amestoy, a well-known capitalist of Southern California, died at his residence in Rosecrans at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. His remains are lying at the residence of his son-in-law, S. F. Gless.

Mr. Amestoy was an old-timer and was the first man to import sheep into Los Angeles county. He was a millionaire and owned the Amestoy Block on Main street, beside much other city property.

He was 60 years of age and leaves three daughters, five sons and many friends to mourn his loss.

Clipped By:

m_gariador

Sun, Apr 8, 2018