

JEAN ILCAINA

Jean Baptiste Ilcaina, a boy about 17 years of age, died at the Pomona valley hospital on Friday of typhoid fever. He had been ill about three weeks. The boy was a native of France. He has a sister in Los Angeles and one near Puente. The remains were shipped to Los Angeles for interment.