

TEARS FLOW AT SCHOOL.
Sad Scene Follows Request of Parent
for the Books of the Boy That Died.

Tears flowed from the faces of teachers and pupils of the Temple-street school when the father called to get the

JOHN ORDOQUI,
drowned at Redondo and to be buried tomorrow.

books that had belonged to the boy that died.

The boy was John Ordoqui, son of Manuel Ordoqui of this city. He was drowned at Redondo June 17. The body was recovered Tuesday.

At the Coroner's inquest yesterday the jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The funeral will be held at the undertaking parlors of R. L. Garrett & Co. on North Main street at 10 a.m. Friday.