

RESIDENT OF ANAHEIM WILL SHARE ESTATE

Mrs. Carrie Vejar of Anaheim, daughter of the late Grat Mirande, who is known here as the former owner of a ranch near Pomona, will share with her six brothers and sisters in property left by her father, which included an ancestral castle in the Pyrenees, business property in Paris and other French cities and $300,000 cash.

Mirande left California a number of years ago to return to his home at Gurmencou in the Pyrenees where he was residing last winter when death overtook him. He was mayor of the town when he died.

Other heirs to the estate are Mrs. Marcelline Barry of Pasadena, John Mirande of Bakersfield, Grace, Robert and Stephen Mirande of Pomona, and Mrs. Anna Esplau of Pomona.

Clipped By:

m_gariador

Mon, Oct 16, 2017